

Annex B: UNICEF Country Programme ToC for Outcome 4: 2021-2025

Outcome 4: By 2025, national legislative and implementation systems increasingly provide for a protective and caring family environment that enables families and children to demand and benefit from enhanced access to and use of community based child and family services, quality alternative care, justice system, and protection systems against violence in all environments

ASSUMPTIONS Political support for child rights, A2J and VAC agendas remains strong Government allocates sufficient resources for development and implementation of policy reforms EU and other international organizations and donors continue to provide support for child rights reforms Government achieves progress in related reforms, e.g., rule of law, de-centralization, sex equality, inclusive education	Primary and secondary legislation and evidence-based cross-sectoral policies and quality mechanisms on VAC and A2J are enhanced	Mechanisms and services are in place to provide support to children and families and thus prevent unnecessary family separation, and to provide quality care outside families when necessary	Social workers, police, prosecutors, judges, lawyers, teachers, health workers strengthen their capacity on child and family support, VAC and A2J	Quality rehabilitation and support services are in place for prevention of family separation, children victims of violence and children in conflict with the law	Harmful attitudes, beliefs, norms and practices are addressed, and children, caregivers and families are empowered to prevent, recognize and report violence, and prevent family separation including through development of parenting support programmes, community engagement, media and internet literacy	Children are aware, able and have mechanisms to claim their rights and seek redress for rights violations	RISKS Change in Government in 2020 and ensuing changes in political priorities Political instability (including situation in Abkhazia and South Ossetia) Rise of support for anti-child rights agenda Natural hazards re-directing capacity and resources
	OUTPUTS
	By 2025, the child protection system and social services have improved capacities to develop and deliver evidence-based programmes that provide a more protective environment for children	By 2025, relevant institutions have increased capacity to implement the legislation on social work, including strengthening pre- and in-service training and on-going support to social service workforce staff.	By 2025, the justice system has improved capacity to develop and deliver evidence-based programmes that provide access to justice for children in contact with the law	By 2025, children, parents and community leaders in selected regions of Georgia are able to end/minimize harmful traditional practices, based on enhanced knowledge of positive parenting methods, evidence and better understanding of the consequences of violence against children			